Dear Pastor,

Over the years I have responded to a number of pastors who sought help to send one of their families to a mission field. The pictures of many of those families fill our missions wall. Today I would like to ask you to help CBC send my assistant pastor to Uruguay. No, I'm not trying to get rid of him. He is worthy of your investment.

Chris visited CBC as a teenager. God used the ministry of CBC to bring him to Jesus Christ and disciple him. During Bible college years Chris met and married Erika. After their college graduation, I hired Chris to assist me and Erika to serve as administrative assistant. They have served in the children's, youth, outreach and music ministries, providing leadership in them as well. In addition to these, Chris is also responsible for the construction of our $3 million facility. God used Chris to track the progress of the architects and general contractors during the pre-construction stages as well as to provide support during the construction period.

God used our annual missions revivals to shape Chris's heart. It was during our missions trips to a few Hispanic countries when God directed his heart.

I will miss my son-in-the-faith. I do not relish the thought of his extended absences while he extends the reach of CBC into Uruguay. We have become accustomed to depending on he and his wife and have enjoyed the blessing of his children. Yet God's work must ever move forward to the ends of the earth.

As you can see, Chris & Erika have gained valuable experience that will enable them to be effective in Uruguay. Will you help me send them to Uruguay?

Serving Together,

Mike Aylestock
